SUPPLEMENT TO COMMENTS AND COUNTERPROPOSAL OF SAN JOAQUIN RADIO COMPANY, LLC.

San Joaquin Radio Company, LLC ("San Joaquin"), by its attorney, hereby submits the following supplemental information regarding the business, organizations, and churches located in the community of North Fork, California, in support of its Counterproposal in the above-captioned proceeding proposing that Channel 300B1 be allotted to North Fork.

The name of the public library referred to in San Joaquin's Counterproposal as being located in North Fork is the North Fork Public Library.

The name of the elementary school referred in San Joaquin's Counterproposal as being located in North Fork is the North Fork elementary school.

The names and addresses of the churches referred to in San Joaquin's Counterproposal are:¹

St. Joseph the Worker Catholic Church
56504 Road 200, North Fork, CA

¹In the Counterproposal, San Joaquin stated that "churches representing nine religious denominations" were located in North Fork. In rechecking the information regarding churches in North Fork for this Supplement, San Joaquin has discovered that one of the churches representing the Bahai Faith no longer is active in North Fork, and that the two Baptist churches in North Fork had recently merged.

Master Plan For Mill Site Reuse Completed

By Barry Vesser,
Executive Director

October 19th was a day for celebration in the history of the mill site project. In the Music Room of the North Fork School, which was full to capacity with interested citizens, planners Keith Gurnee and Debbie Rudd revealed the completed Master Plan for the site. Individuals were encouraged to examine the detailed drawings at the end of the meeting, and to share in light refreshments, including a cake decorated with a map-plan of the development created by Laura Zabicki.

Following the community's decision at the second Design Workshop, of the 59 acres of land which can be developed, 60% is set aside for light industrial purposes, 30% for an RV Park, and 10% set aside for community uses such as ballfields, parks, and picnic sites. Copies of the color plan, which have been presented to and adopted by the Madera County Board of Supervisors, may be examined at the new CDC office on the mill site.

The CDC has already begun to take the next steps necessary to make this development a reality. These include some very important, but not very glamorous planning. In order to have the property, presently held by the County, returned to the community, we need to complete an Environmental Impact Report on the Mill Site Reuse Master Plan. The CDC has hired a respected environmental planning consultant to help us with this task. We are also waiting for EPA to finish its final testing on the site, which should be done by April. Finally, we have decided to work with Provost and Pritchard, a private engineering firm, to do the preliminary engineering design work needed to apply for funds to develop the water and sewer infrastructure that will be needed on the site. It is going to be a busy winter!

CDC Moves Offices Out To The Mill Site.

For those of you who haven't heard yet, we have moved! It took us awhile and there were a few hurdles along the way, but thanks to a tremendous volunteer effort and some important donations, we finally made it. This plan has been in the works for about a year and it was quite an undertaking to accomplish it. First, we had to hook up the power to the office building and to the water pump. For this we have Ken Moylan, and many other people at PG&E to thank. They donated their services to re-hook up the site, in what proved to be a more difficult job than any of us anticipated. Next we had to address the water system. The existing system is a mystery with no schematic diagrams, so it took us awhile to figure out where the existing lines went and which ones were still serviceable. It turned out that a good portion of the lines needed to be replaced.
